AUTUMN.

BY R. R. DAYKROUNT, When the full glory of the passing year, Grown richer thro' the allent lapse of time Rhines brightly forth in autumn's brillian

When leaf by leaf folls elmling, brown and seat, And when the sparkling air is fresh and clear, And the wind, straying from the colds flight through the wood its melancholy

Then is there yet for every one bright cheer In all the prospect that is spread before His gate. For, though the year is grow-ing old, Let is there beauty, richer than of yore,

A thousand phases, glorrous, untold,
The summer scens enriched a thousa fold.

And Nature's glories shining more and more THE CHAPEL. Stands the chapel on the mountain,---Down the rafe de still looks go,

Gay and clear, by mend and fountain, Emgs the Shepherd boy below. Frosts the bril's tone down in radices, Swells the death chant's solomn cry; Silent is the sweng of gladness, Listening looks the lad on high. Up there for the grave lie ready, Those who in the vale were gay; Shepherd laddle, shepherd laddle, These they'll chant o'er thee one day.

A legal wag calls his marriage certificate "a writ of attain'd her."

Why is a muff like a fool? Be cause it hold's a lady's hand without queezing it. "Oh, that my father was seized other people, which is not in our power. Refore the introduction of carpets, to cover the floor with straw or rushes was deemed so necessary a point of courtesy, that when not performed it was said that the host "did not care a rush or a straw"for his guest -hence the origin of the expression so common now.

A mother writes that her little girl, seeing her papa tap maple trees, asked: "Why not tap apple frees to get cider?" That would only be acting like a great many people who, in are perpetually attempting to anticipate the process of nature.

What a glorious world this would be, if all its inhabitants could say, with Shakespeare's Shepherd: "Sir, I am a true laborer; I carn what I wear; owe no man hate; envy no man's happiness; glad of other men's good; content with my farm."

A married couple who were notoious for their continual quarrels, changed their mode of life, and became as noted for their conjugal hap piness. The old lady having been asked the cause of the change, reon well enough together since we kept two bears in the house." "Two "Two The Eastern Cities. bears!" exclaimed the neighbor .-'Yes," said she,"bear and forbear."

The ladies are introducing a new and beautiful ornament for the parlor, mantel, or center-table. They take large pine burrs, sprinkle grass seeds of any kind in them, and place them in pots of water. When the burrs are soaked a few days, they close up in the form of solid cones, then the little spears of green grass begin to emerge from amongst the lamine, forming an ornament of rare and simple beauty.

The Great New-England Remedy

DR. J. W. POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND

S now offered to the afflicted throughout the country, after having been proved by the test thirteen years in the New-England States, where its merits have become as well known as the tree from which, in part, it derives its virtues. THE WHITE PINE COMPOUND

CURES Sore Throat, Colds, Coughs, Diphtheria, Bronchitis, Spitting of Blood, and Pul-monary Affections generally. It is a Remarkable Remedy for Kidney Complaints, Diabetes, Difficulty of Voiding Urine, Bleeding from the Kidneys and Bladder, Gravel, and other Complaints.

BOSTON, Jan. 20, 1866 POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND. - After having given it a thorough trial, we can confidently recommend Poland's White Pine Compound as a very valuable article for the cure of colds, coughs, and paimonte complaints generally. In Several cases, we have known it to give prompt relief when all other remedies which had been tried had failed. It is an article, which, in a climate so promotive of audden and severe colds as is that of New England, sught to be in every family; and we are sure that Glose who once obtain it, and give it a fair trial, will not thereafter be willing to be without it. A VALUABLE MEDICINE. — Dr. Polind's White Pine Compound, advertised in our columns, is a suc-cessful attempt to combine and apply the medicinal virtues of the White Pine bark. It has been the oughly tested by people in this city and vicinity and the proprietor has testimonials to its value one well known to our citizens. We rec ommend its trial in all those cases of disease to which it is adapted. It is for sale by all our druggists. - N. Y. Independent.

The White Pine Compound is now sold in every part of the United States and British Provinces
